Camp Leaders

RICE SPANN has never lost his love for bows and arrows since boyhood. He lives on a small homestead outside of Viroqua and enjoys making and shooting wood long-bows in his free time.

JANELLE PETERSON is happiest when exploring outdoors with children. She has directed a family nature club, summer adventure camps, nature-based classes, fields trips, and events. Her degree is in music education and therapy.

ZOE DREW-KING has dreamed of bringing theatre summer camps to Viroqua — she's been able to direct three musicals (and four plays) at Youth Initiative High School, but longs to share her passion and expertise with the community at large. In addition to her five years of teaching experience, Zoe has a B.A. in Theatre Arts and seven years of working at a Girl Scout residential summer camp under her belt.

Camp Leaders

VICKI RAMSAY is a teacher of biology, geometry, agriculture, and art at Youth Initiative High School. With twenty-two years of service in alternative and environmental education, Vicki has worked in public schools, community programs, summer camps and at the Kickapoo Valley Reserve. She loves being out in nature with children of all ages, creating arts, learning, and having adventures.

MANDY HERRICK holds a degree in Theatre/Dance and is a Somatic Movement Educator and Therapist. She has been teaching, performing, and choreographing professionally for more than fifteen years. Over the past several years, she has enjoyed teaching and watching children in Viroqua dance and move.

FRANCIA is the founder of Bricolage Cirkus. Before dedicating herself to circus arts, she was a marathon runner and triathlete. After spending two years training at the San Francisco Circus Center she moved to Eugene, Oregon, where she founded the first aerial program at Bounce Gymnastics and Circus Art Center. Leading the program for six years gave Francia a platform to develop a strong Adult and Youth Circus program that her community was able to participate and enjoy. She continues her circus education with various teachers around the world, gathering skills to strengthen her craft.
